Proposed Undergraduate Course Syllabus Policy, (see 2005 Syllabus Policy,<http://policy.arizona.edu/education-and-student-affairs/undergraduate-course-syllabus-policy>)

The distribution of a course information sheet or syllabus is required for all University undergraduate courses<sup>1</sup>. The syllabus is a statement of intent and schedule of topics/activities that serves as an implicit agreement between the instructor and students. It must be distributed (either as a hard copy or online) during the first week of classes, and an electronic copy, available to students, must be retained by the department office. By policy, the following information must be provided:

Sample Syllabus Templates	Undergraduate Course Syllabus Template for in-person classes (separate attachment) – this template includes the required topics listed above, using the recommended language, along with recommended (but optional) topics that may be added if appropriate for an in-person course.
	Undergraduate Course Syllabus Template for hybrid and fully-online classes (TBA) – this template includes the required topics listed above, using the recommended language, along with recommended (but optional) topics that may be added for a hybrid or fully-online course.

<sup>1</sup>For co-convened 400/500-level classes, the instructor may use a single syllabus for the jointly convened class or separate syllabi for the graduate and undergraduate offerings. If a single syllabus is used, it must meet the requirements of both the Undergraduate and Graduate Syllabus Policies and must clearly distinguish between graduate and undergraduate requirements and workload expectations.

Rationale for the Change:

- The Undergraduate Course Syllabus Policy was last reviewed and approved by the Faculty Senate in 2005. The policy should address new course delivery modes (hybrid/fully online), current pedagogy and student expectations.
- The faculty recognizes that some information is essential on a syllabus, while other items are recommended—depending on the course content and delivery.
- A table of required items (policy) provides the basics, while the recommended (optional) items are included in templates: one for in-person courses (separate attachment) and one for hybrid and fully-online courses (TBA). Instructors may customize the template as appropriate for their course.
